Chapter 189: The Divine System of the Duo Dragons and Seven Dragons

As the Duo Dragons and Seven Dragons ascended to the status of divine beings, their influence over the realms expanded beyond mere worship. Following in the footsteps of Sung Su-Ho, they granted their followers the same powerful gift—the ability to cultivate their strength through the Divine System.

This system, a divine mechanism designed to elevate those worthy, was the means by which the faithful could grow in power and stature, much like the Shadow Soldiers created by Sung Jin-Woo or the Fiery Dragon Lords under Sung Su-Ho. It became a crucial tool for those seeking to prove their devotion to the newly risen gods and attain the ultimate power.

The Divine System:

The followers of the Duo Dragons and Seven Dragons were granted the power to level up, much like the hunters and warriors of the old days. By channeling the divine essence of their gods, they gained access to the Divine System, a unique ability to raise their points and levels, honing their skills, attributes, and powers. This system allowed the faithful to become stronger, more capable, and closer to divine might.

Much like the old system of hunters on Earth, individuals could increase their level by completing quests and battles. However, the true power came from the Temples dedicated to the Duo Dragons and Seven Dragons, which were scattered across the realms.

Levels and the Path to the Dragon Heart:

The path to divine power was not an easy one. To achieve true greatness in the eyes of the Duo Dragons and the Seven Dragons, followers needed to reach a monumental level 500. This was the threshold beyond which the truly worthy were granted a second heart, a Dragon Heart, just as Sung Su-Ho had bestowed upon those in his service.

The Dragon Heart was a symbol of immense power, vitality, and rebirth. The heart granted those who received it access to abilities beyond their previous limitations:

1. Increased Strength: Those with the Dragon Heart gained immense physical and spiritual strength.

2. Regeneration: The Dragon Heart granted unparalleled regenerative abilities, allowing followers to heal from nearly any wound.

3. Elemental Affinity: Those who obtained the heart also gained an affinity for the elements—especially fire and dragon energy—which enhanced their combat capabilities.

Only the most devoted and persistent followers could attain this remarkable power. The journey to level 500 was long and arduous, requiring exceptional effort, perseverance, and a strong will to succeed.

The Temples:

The Divine System functioned not only through dungeons and challenges in the multiverse but also through the Temples of the Duo Dragons and Seven Dragons. These Temples were sacred places, hidden within the vastness of the realms, where followers could gain experience and increase their levels. Within the temples, divine instructors and guardians trained individuals, guiding them through their quests and helping them grow stronger.

Unlike the dungeons that could be found in every corner of the multiverse, Temples were the only places where followers could earn substantial experience points and level up beyond their natural limitations. These temples were protected by powerful guardians—sacred beings who were imbued with the divine energy of the respective dragons they served.

Each Temple had its own unique structure and challenges:

1. The Temple of the Duo Dragons: Nestled within the core of a massive mountain, this temple housed trials that tested the resolve, intelligence, and fighting prowess of its visitors. It was a place of deep meditation and purification, where followers could commune with the essence of the Duo Dragons themselves.

2. The Temples of the Seven Dragons: Scattered across the multiverse, these temples were hidden in secret locations, each one tailored to the personality and domain of the respective Seven Dragons. Whether through fiery trials, illusion-filled labyrinths, or contests of knowledge and strategy, the followers of the Seven Dragons faced intense challenges to grow stronger and prove their worth.

The Rise of New Powers:

The Dragon Hearts granted by the Duo Dragons and Seven Dragons sparked a surge of devotion and ambition across the multiverse. Those who received the Dragon Heart were no longer mere mortals but beings with divine potential. Their names were whispered with reverence, and their powers became legends across the realms.

The faithful, now empowered by the Divine System, could pursue their goals with a new sense of purpose and strength. The followers of the Seven Dragons began to grow in number and influence, creating their own armies and factions dedicated to each of the Seven Dragons. With the granting of Dragon Hearts, they became more than just disciples—they became the protectors, champions, and leaders of the multiverse.

The Future of the Divine System:

As the followers of the Duo Dragons and Seven Dragons continued to level up and grow in power, the balance of the multiverse shifted further. The divine influence of these gods was undeniable, and those who reached the coveted level 500 and were granted a Dragon Heart found themselves walking the path of legends.

The question remained: Would these newly empowered beings become allies or rivals to the ancient gods of the Divine Triad? The rise of the Duo Dragons and the Seven Dragons signaled the beginning of a new age of divine power, and the multiverse would never be the same again.